

NARSA Names □ Aaron Morrow, General Manager of Johnson Mfg. Co. 36th President □

PRINCETON, IA – Aaron Morrow, general manager of Johnson Mfg. Co., has been elected president of NARSA – The International Heat Exchange Association. Aaron becomes the 36th president in the Association’s 64-year history. The members of the Board of Director elected him at its annual Fall meeting which was held in conjunction with the Heavy Duty Heating and Cooling Conference in Louisville, KY.

Aaron Morrow holds a Bachelor of Science Degree in Chemical Engineering and a Masters in Business Administration from the University of Iowa. Aaron and his wife, Lisa and two-year-old daughter, Lucy, reside in Davenport, IA.

Said F. Larry LePrevost, executive vice president at Johnson Mfg. Co., “It has been my absolute pleasure working with Aaron. His organizational skills and leadership have led to his recent appointment as Johnson’s new General Manager. NARSA will both benefit, and enjoy working with Aaron as well.”

Said colleague and NARSA leader Pat O’Connor, VP of Sales and Marketing at Johnson, “I first introduced Aaron to NARSA and encouraged him to get active when I was president. I nominated him as a director. I think he will be a great asset for the Board and wish them all continued success with building our organization.”

Pat was NARSA president from 2012 to 2014 and a long time active member of the board. Pat retired from the NARSA board two years ago.

His term as NARSA resident will end in 2020. In addition to his volunteer work with NARSA, Aaron is a classroom volunteer with Junior Achievement of the Heartland, serves on the Board of Directors for Acacia Fraternity at the University of Iowa, the Alumni Advisory Board for the University of Iowa Chemical Engineering Dept., and is a member of the Ancient Free and Accepted Masons.

Also elected to the NARSA Board were: David Bienvenu, Radiator Service Co., Chairman of the Board; Robert Duran, Cooling Systems Caribe, First Vice President; Kyle Rickermann, Affton Radiator, Second Vice President; Roland Ewert, Thermal Solutions Manufacturing, Treasurer; and Rafael Taveras, Industria Core S.A., Director.
